DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.
2. Claims 1, 6, 7, 11-14, and 21-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Oh (US 6,913,157) in view of Lynn (US 4,387,822).

Oh discloses a first component having a plurality of male internal threads and a second component having a plurality of female external threads, the internal threads having a plurality of threads with a first thread (36) having a different lead angle than the other threads (24). (See column 5, lines 24-26 describing the thread (36) being spaced from the other threads (24)). Oh does not teach the male thread are external and the female threads are internal.

Lynn teaches it is known to reverse the parts of the component such that the male threads can be internal or external and the female threads are external or internal, respectively.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to reverse the parts of the components of Oh to provide the male threads as external threads and the female threads as internal threads as taught by Lynn, since it has been held that a mere reversal of the essential working parts of a device involves only routine skill in the art. Doing so allows for the closure to be either internally or externally engaged on the container neck as desired.

Regarding the claimed lead differences, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to form the lead angle of any given difference, since it has been held that discovering an optimum value of a result effective variable involves only routine skill in the art. Modifying the device of Oh as modified would work equally as well as that claimed.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed September 7, 2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues the thread element 36 is an extension of thread 24. While this is true in the illustrated embodiments, the written disclosure also sets forth the thread element 36 is spaced from thread element 24. Thus, the plurality of threads have a different lead angle along a length thereof.

In response to applicant's argument that the references fail to show certain features of applicant's invention, it is noted that the features upon which applicant relies (i.e., fastening is started with a little rotation) are not recited in the rejected claim(s). Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

Conclusion

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

5. Applicant is duly reminded that a complete response must satisfy the requirements of 37 C.F.R. 1.111, including: "The reply must present arguments pointing out the specific distinctions believed to render the claims, including any newly presented claims, patentable over any applied references. A general allegation that the claims "define a patentable invention" without specifically pointing out how the language of the claims patentably distinguishes them from the references does not comply with the requirements of this section. Moreover, "The prompt development of a clear Issue requires that the replies of the applicant meet the objections to and rejections of the claims." Applicant should also specifically point out the support for any amendments made to the disclosure. See MPEP 2163.06 II(A), MPEP 2163.06 and MPEP 714.02. The "disclosure" includes the claims, the specification and the drawings.

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Various prior art closures teaching features similar to those disclosed and/or claimed are cited for their disclosures.

7. In order to reduce pendency and avoid potential delays, Group 3720/80 is encouraging FAXing of responses to Office Actions directly into the Group at (571) 273-8300. This practice may be used for filing papers not requiring a fee. It may also be used for filing papers which require a fee by applicants who authorize charges to a PTO deposit account. Please identify the examiner and art unit at the top of your cover sheet. Papers submitted via FAX into Group 3720 will be promptly forwarded to the examiner.

8. It is called to applicant's attention that if a communication is faxed before the reply time has expired, applicant may submit the reply with a "Certificate of Facsimile" which merely asserts that the reply is being faxed on a given date. So faxed, before the period for reply has expired, the reply may be considered timely. A suggested format for a certificate follows:

I hereby certify that this correspondence for Application Serial No. _____ is being facsimiled to The U.S. Patent and Trademark Office via fax number 571-273-8300 on the date shown below:
